Senate Unit Passes Test Ban Treaty

16 To 1 Vote Sends Measure To Floor; Ratification Seen

The treaty now goes to the Senate floor, where an overwhelming vote of ratification is expected by mid-September.

The treaty will be called up for floor debate beginning Monday, Sept. 9, and treaty supporters are predicting that fewer than 20 of the 100-man Senate will vote against ratification. A twothirds majority is required for ratification.

In reporting out the treaty, the committee followed Administration wishes by not attaching any formal reservations that might have required renegotiation of the American - Soviet - British treaty signed in Moscow on Aug.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., the committee chairman, said the report, to be submitted to the day, would include "understandtinued U. S. preparedness to test.

New Attack By Exiles North Coast Also 'Beefed-Up' For

Cuba Fears

HAVANA (AP)-Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government put its armed forces on a state of alert today and posted bigger concentrations of soldiers and militiamen at strategic points throughout Havana.

Possible Invasion

Armed forces had been put into a "state of preparation" Thursday, but beefed-up military measures were reported then only outside the capital and not in Ha-The new moves followed intelligence reports of possible incursions by anti-Castro exiles against installations on the North Coast. According to military intelligence, these raids would be somewhat larger than the hit-and-run attacks made by exiles recently.

(At this point, telephone connection between New York and Havana was cut, presumably by censorship. Earlier dispatches from Havana had reported the following:)

Sources said Thursday night the alert had been in effect since Monday. The military was understood to be watching particularly for any attack from Nicaragua or other Central-American nations which have offered refuge to anti-Castro exiles.

Witnesses said the bandit, wearing glasses, a hat and a raincoat, robbed a shopping center branch of the Equitable Trust Co. Thursday then exploded a smoke bomb to discourage pursuers Bank officials said the loss amounted to $6,800.

Mrs. Nancy Whetzel, 31, a teller, said the robber walked to her window and ordered the money be put into a bag.

'Are you kidding?" she asked. "No, I'm not," he replied. " have a hand grenade here.'

A customer told police the bandit dropped the small smoke bomb as he left.

Bickar was apprehended by state police on the Baltimore Beltway. His automobile license number was given to officers by the customer and a bank official who managed to follow him for a short

Keeping The Patient Alive

Insofar as it kept the trains rolling, although for how long no one knows, Congress has performed a notable public service with its 11th-hour move to force binding arbitration of the two key issues in the railroad dispute.

Although necessary to avert a nationwide rail strike, enactment of compulsory arbitration legislation is a regrettable move. Compulsory arbitration has been accepted in a few other transportation contracts this year, but it's still opposed by a majority of unions and by management

It cannot be considered an adequate substitute for free collective bargaining, which still is the best way to resolve labor-management differences.

Binding arbitration became necessary in the case of the railroads because job elimination is about the thorniest subject labor and management can tackle

The issues - elimination of 32,000 diesel locomotive firemen and regulation of the size of train and vard crews - not only concern job security but also union survival. For if the recommendations of the presidential commission and emergency board were accepted, it probably would mean eventual death for the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen.

The dispute has been shuttled from board to commission without success for the last four years. It has proved thus far that no one, Congress and the President included. can settle a controversy that labor and management can't agree on.

Binding arbitration is a bitter pill to swallow. But in this case, it was the only kind of medicine left to keep the patient from

A meeting of some 35 American Automobile Association managers from northeastern Ohio here this week points up a new potential of East Liverpool as a convention site and commercial hub.

Although the city has somewhat limited facilities for handling large delegations of organizations, East Liverpool, nevertheless, has easy access, scenic attractions, historic interest and other attributes which bear further development.

The efforts of a few men, such as H. J. English of the Columbiana County Motor Club, in furthering the role of this city as a site for tourists and meetings rates more than a verbal pat on the back.

It warrants the full support of the city administration and all organizations with a true interest in East Liverpool and the fu-

A Big, Bothersome Question

With the Senate Foreign Relations Committee voting 16-1 to approve the limited nuclear test ban treaty without any reservation, proponents now are predicting overwhelming ratification when the treaty comes before the full Senate Sept. 9.

While there was a wide difference of opinion among the best brains in the country on the advisibility of signing any treaty with the Soviet Union - we've been burned so often before - those on the Washington scene seem to agree that we have gone too far now to back out

And while we are bending every effort to accommodate the Soviet Union, what is the Soviet Union doing to show its good faith

THE NEWS wires still carry reports that those famous Russian fishing boats still are plying the waters off Cape Cod, shadowing NATO ships in the Bay of Biscay, "fishing" in the Aleutians and near our Polaris test areas.

London spy experts say these 100 or more Russian trawlers have the latest radar equipment and might be able to intercept Allied messages or jam circuits during an emergency. Russians boats in the Bay of Biscay aren't even bothering to conceal their mission, these sources said

It is believed the Red ships have bases in Egypt, Cuba, Yemen and elsewhere and pose a real threat, since they're on the high seas and can't be ordered to leave.

DURING HEARINGS on the treaty in the Senate committee, Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz, called for withdrawal of Soviet troops from Cuba and leveling of the Berlin Wall as our price for ratification.

"Common sense always has told us that actions speak louder than words," Sen. Goldwater said. "What about now, as we consider the words of this proposed test ban which the Soviets say they want in the interests of relieving tension?

"Is it tension they want to relieve or just pressures on their own aggressive plans?" the senator asks.

The question is a big one that bothers

Demonstration Of Dignity

What effect the massive freedom march on Washington will have on pending civil rights legislation is a question only Congress can answer now

But there can be little doubt that the demonstration hit the mark squarely in getting the American Negro's message of appeal across to the American public.

Unquestionably, the marchers gained a new measure of respect for their cause from some white citizens who heretofore have regarded the whole racial issue with aloofness or disdain.

If for no other reason, the march was a success because of the dignity and orderliness with which it was carried out. Fortunately, those who predicted violence were proved wrong.

Remember When?

Let's take a look back along the way. When the world is too much with us, the best escape is to recall a time when things were different.

Your memory is still hitting on all eight cylinders if you can remember when.

Movie actresses were expected to have class and stature-like Clara Kimball Young. Shirley Temple's dimples had been seen by more people than the Grand Canyon.

People said Enrico Caruso had a voice so powerful that when he sang in a small room it would break the windows.

It was part of the act in a Chinese restaurant for the waiters to pretend they couldn't understand English well. That kind of lent the place a shuddery sense of mystery.

RIN-TIN-TIN earned more take-home pay than Lassie.

The greatest test of a middle-aged man's athletic ability was having to climb into the upper berth of a Pullman.

No husband had to bother about keeping his wife's cigarettes lit-as good women didn't smoke in public.

The worm they dropped into the jar at temperance meetings to show the paralyzing effects of alcohol was always named Oscar. No woman needed more than $5 to go to the grocery store, because who could carry home that much worth of groceries? Sick people slept with the windows shut fast-to keep out the poisonous night vapors. The greatest argument in favor of granting women the right to vote was that they would improve the moral tone of politics. The common man was in favor of high income taxes because he felt only the rich would ever have to pay them. The people in comic strips were always slipping on banana peels, or being hit by flying bricks-but they never seemed to have any emotional problems.

IT COST LESS to spend a full year in college than it now takes to send a small

Much of the credit for the way the demonstration was handled goes to A. Philip Randolph, president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters and director of the march. To Randolph, dignity and good manners are a categorical imperative. "Now is the time for us to learn good manners," he was quoted as saving earlier this summer. "We will need them when this is over, because we must show good manners after we have won." Hopefully, Randolph's philosophy and this peaceful march on the capital will set the tone for any future demonstrations. And hopefully, there won't be cause for many more.

Hoffa Sets 1967 Contract Goal

By Victor Riesel

Though deeply troubled person- But the new power would be ally, Jimmy Hoffa is planning methodically for the evening of Aug. 31, 1967.

At midnight then, if fate and federal juries deal with him kindly, he literally will become one of the world's most powerful civilians. At one minute past 12 that Victor Riesel night, the teamsters' chief will be in a position to call a coastto-coast "over-the-road" and local cartage strike in virtually all the nation's cities and on the highways linking them together. Should such a stoppage last a week or more, little would move on wheels unless the Congress intervenes. Docks and rail yards would be embargoed. Even foreign ports would be affected as freighters, destined for the U.S. would be held to their piers.

This is the real impact of a series of closed teamster sessions during which Hoffa hammered at some 425 leaders of trucking locals he had summoned to Washington.

During the "conferences" the other day Hoffa explained the detailed niceties of what is called a uniform contract covering some 540,000 teamsters employed by 14.-000 transport companies. The teamsters' leader explained that he will have such a contract covering long hauls and intra-city trucks and warehouses over the entire nation by Sept. 1, 1964.

IT WILL BE a three-year pact running until '67. Then, if the trucking industry of the U.S. does not yield to new teamster demands, there can be a legal Hoffa has worked years for this. Already he has 90 per cent of the industry under area wide regional - compacts with a common expiration date. The other day he explained how he would bag the other 10 per cent.

His listeners were not bubbling with enthusiasm. For, when he gets all regional pacts lined up under one uniform contract, it will be Hoffa and the "national headquarters" which will, in effect, be bargaining with the trucking corporations. This does not leave his lieutenants much. Hoffa, indeed, has strength now.

GRIN AND BEAR IT

"I find this national survey of 150,000 representative women inconclusive, Sneedby! . . . Nobody asked my wife!'

vast - and it is vital to analyze it now, years in advance.

What is a uniform contract? It sets uniform wages, working conditions, hours, holidays, vacations, pensions, welfare benefits for all over-the-road and cartage teamsters throughout the United States.

IT COVERS more than 300 locals which are the backbone not only of the Teamsters Brotherhood - but much of U.S. industry and business. For the most part, it has jurisdiction over trucks moving raw material.

However, the contract does not cover deliveries of bread, milk and construction materials. But how long could milk be delivered if the dairies run out of bottles and containers? How long could bread be baked if flour were not moved?

Gas and fuel are not included in the master contract. But if some 450,000 teamsters set up picket lines, how long would other trucks

There is also the matter of multimillion dollar pension funds. A centrally negotiated, uniform national contract would bring with it a consolidation of regional and local funds - if Hoffa has his way -and he has a way of getting

The Central States Teamsters' pension fund now under investigation again in Chicago has upwards of $240 million. There are many locals in the group of 300 which have individual pension pools of $15 million to $20 million.

I have just talked to pension consultants who tell me that a Central States Teamsters' pension fund in the over-the-road and cartage field will reach the billion dollar mark in a few years.

THERE IS no doubt - and there was none among those who "conferred" with him, that Jim Hoffa would have all the voting power he needs among the trustees of such a vast treasury. Hoffa becomes agitated when asked if he would ever call a national trucking strike under the slogan of no contract, no work. Never, never, he shouts. If we take him at his word, it still does not diminish the power now being put in the hands of anyone in the presidential seat of the Teamsters Brotherhood. Even a week-long stoppage under a centralized contract could affect the world. I have covered 48-hour city trucking strikes. Even in so short a period, the oceanside docks and railheads become so clogged that shippers immediately are told to hold off any freighter or any land cargo. A long strike could affect such ports as London or Naples if U.S. piers are frozen by the authorities because cargo and freighters

A SPOKESMAN for the American Trucking Association told me at the beginning of Hoffa's drive for a uniform contract that the employers would "never take a national contract unless the industry gets an agreement from Hoffa on arbitration of differences. But Hoffa wants no arbitration. He acts as the arbitrator himself. We're just not going along.'

We'll know soon enough.

March On Washington Called Disgrace

The March on Washington will go down in history as marking a day of public disgrace—a step backward in the evolution of the American system of government for the image of the United States presented to the world is that of a Republic which had professed to believe in v oluntarism David Lawrence rather than coercion, but which on Aug. 28, 1963, permitted itself to be portrayed as unable to legiislate 'equal rights' for its citizens except under the intimidating influence of mass demonstrations.

The press, television and radio, the public forums in halls and stadiums-all have been available heretofore as mediums through which the "right of petition" could be effectively expressed and public opinion formed on controversial questions. But a minority group-led by men who drew to their side church leaders and groups as well as civic organizations—decided that a massive publicity stunt would be a better way to impress Congress and the President with the idea that unemployment and racial discrimination can be legislated out of existence.

Government by mob has on a few occasions in the past darkened the pages of American history. A. Philip Randolph, the leader of the march this week. frankly characterized the march as a symbol of "nevolution." he

"In our pluralistic democratic society, causes must gain acceptance and approval and support. They can only gain acceptance, approval and support if they can get attention, and in order to get attention - with numerous causes seeking the focus of public opinion-it's necessary for the dramatization to be developed of a given cause. . .

MR. RANDOLPH, however, was not content with trying to mobilize American public opinion. He told an audience at the National Press Club on Monday that the March on Washington would bring into "world focus" the struggle of people's of color in America "for first-class citizenship." He added:

"It will have the value of giving the peoplest of the world some concept of this problem. . . . It will serve to bring world pressure upon the United States of America to step up the struggle to wipe out race bias, because in the cold war-in the conflict of the free world with the totalitarian world-the free world is seeking the alliance of the Afro-Asian world

"And in order that the free world may win the alliance of the Afro-Asian world, the free world must show that we are not only making promises to Africa and promises to Asia to help them advance their cause, but we are going to keep our promises, fulfill our promises with our own citizens at home-especially Negroes of African descent

'Africa will not trust the United States in its promise to the peoples of Africa unless they realize and understand that the Negroes here in America are giving and evincing basic trust in the promises that have been made by our own country to them.

"And so, the March on Washington is an expression, a great step forward of the confrontation between the civil-rights revolution and our American society."

COULD NOT the merits of the civil-rights revolution have been presented effectively to American audiences without street demonstrations? Couldn't the State Department and the Voice of America instead have dealt comprehensively abroad with the story of the efforts being made inside United States to deal with the civil rights problem? Also, would it not have been better if the leaders of the march some unfavorable publicity? What shall be said, for instance, of the Gallup Poll result published this week in many newspapers which indicated that 63 per cent of the American people disapproved of the March on

had not by their tactics incurred necessary? Last month another Gallup Poll revealed that six out of every ten Americans believe the mass demonstrations by the Negroes would hurt their cause.

Washington and thought it un-

The "right to petition" is a fundamental principle of the Constitution, but it assumes an orderly and non-provocative procedure.

The federal government had to go to large expense to police the Wednesday demonstration and to keep people from crowding into the city who might participate in disorders.

To say that the march was successful because large - scale violence was avoided is to ignore the bitterness and resentment prevalent on that day in a city whose normal community life was disrupted.

TENS OF THOUSANDS of people remained secluded in their homes lest they become injured or subjected to unwarranted delays in moving to and from their residences. American citizens were prevented from pursuing their customary ways. Their right to go to their places of employment was impaired by fear of bodily injury.

Would this have happened if the petitioners had relied on the process of reason in a voluntary society, or was it a sample of what happens in backward countries when some force stronger than the individual takes over and prevents freedom of movement?

Are injustices remedied by creating more injustices, and is the cause of civil rights advanced by interfering with the civil rights of non-participants in the mass demonstrations?

These are questions which will need answering, and the full effect of what may come to be called "the mess in Washingtor" could be reflected in future elections. For what was proved by the big demonstration-that in free America only the mob can get laws passed covering the issue of civil rights?

Political Amnesia

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON President Kennedy has a tendency to political amnesia when his Democrats join Republicans to do him in. He finds it easier to remember what the Republicans did.

He said once Republicans have made "no" a political program, but so have a lot of his Demo-The country has in effect three political parties - Democrats, Southern Democrats, and Republicans - just because the Southerners have gone against him so They operate under the Democratic label but can make the Democratic party's campaign promises look like balloons in a tack factory any time it suits them, which is often, to clasp hands with Republicans. Two recent examples:

1. Southern Democrats, against Kennedy's civil rights program from the start, are expected to try to filibuster it to death. 2. Just last week they harpooned him when the House voted to cut foreign aid $585 million below what he asked. Kennedy that same afternoon rushed to denounce the Republicans for the blow. But they could not have done it if a big bunch of Democrats hadn's joined them. The Democrats have such a majority over the Republicans in both houses of Congress they could put through any program Kennedy wanted - provided they stuck together - even if all the Republicans voted no. They don't stick together. In the 435-seat House, with three vacancies, 16 mocrats outnumber Republicars 256-176. In the 100-seat Senate the lineup is 67 Democrats, 33 Republicans. On foreign aid in the House this was how the voting went:

Against the cut: 188 (172 Democrats, 16 Republicans); for the cut: 222 (66 Democrats, 156 Republicans). If only 18 of those 66 Democrats had stuck with Kennedy the vote would have been 204 for the cut but 206 against. The over-all aid bill then went to the Senate on a final 224-186 vote.

There would have been no cut. All but three of the 66 Democrats linging up with the Republicans were from Southern or border states. This defection of the South has haunted Kennedy. There was a shining example of it last year.

That was when the Senate, with Democrats outnumbering Republicans 64-36, killed Kennedy's program of medical care for the aged. That majority of 28 could have swamped the Republicans on any issue.

The sounds which are articulated mainly with one's lips, such as the sounds of B. M. P. and W, are known as "labials."

William Brokaw in the case of an East Liverpool woman accused of making false representations to the county unit of the Ohio Division of Aid for the Aged.

Attys. George A. Aronson and Bernard Fineman argued the motion in behalf of their client, Mrs. Elizah J. Woolley, 739 Green Ln. The prosecutor did not appear.

Judge Chertoff said he will ask for briefs from both the prosecution and the defense before handling down his decision.

The defense earlier sought a bill of particulars in the case, but Brokaw replied that such action is not required by law in a misdemeanor charge. In addition, he said, the affidavit lists the offense "in ordinary and concise language. . . and gives the defendant ample notice of the offense with which she is charged."

The defense then countered with its motion for a court order to require the prosecutor to furnish the bill of particulars. It was that motion that was heard yesterday.

Mrs. Woolley originally had been scheduled for a hearing Aug. 13. The charge first was taken into court in July.

The affidavit was signed by Mrs. Edith Hilditch of East Liverpool, manager of the county office. It asserts that Mrs. Woolley made the alleged false representations on or about Sept. 30, 1960, "with the intent of obtaining aid to which she was not entitled or a higher rate of aid than that to which she was entitled."

Bishop Appeals For End To Job Discrimination

CLEVELAND (AP) - Archbishop Edward F. Hoban of the Cleveland Roman Catholic Diocese has issued a strong plea for an end to racial discrimination in employment, saying that such discrimination has contributed to the unemployment problem.

The prelate's plea was made in his annual Labor Day statement, which was released Thursday and will be distributed by members of the Association of Catholic Trade Unionists at the annual Labor Day Mass at noon Monday in St. John Cathedral.

The archbishop called on both labor and management to work to end what he termed "the national crisis" caused by the lack of employment for millions of Negroes.

His statement came on the heels of the archbishop's decision to have the pastoral letter of the American Catholic hierarchy calling for an end to all forms of segregation-read at all Masses in the diocese last Sunday.

"It is my hope and prayer." Archbishop Hoban said, "that this Labor Day will find both labor and management facing the national crisis of unemployment with unselfish and realistic concern, and addressing themselves with Christian charity and justice to the problem of racial discrimination in employment.

Chamber Sets Reception | Kin Of Midland Settlers Visit

Two great-grandsons of J. A. | Neel, on whose farm part of the Crucible Steel Co.'s Midland Works now stands, visited the plant Wednesday to see the historic homestead which is nearly 100 years old.

Left to right are Paul Brucker of Ohio View, a Crucible division superintendent; Mrs. Stuart Irwin, Robert H. Svenson Jr. of Akron and Stuart Irwin of Avalon, Pa. Svenson and Irwin, the descendants, had heard of the farmhouse from their mothers but had never seen it. Brucker's grandfather owned the adjoining farm.

Neel, who was from McKeesport, bought his first land in 1859 where Midland stands to-Accompanying Svenson and Mr. and Mrs. Irwin were Glenn Roberts, superintendent of community relations, who was host.

There are 15 known descendants of the Neel family, according to Svenson. Besides he and Irwin, the only other relative in the area is Mrs. Anna Mae Neel Atwell of Aliquippa.

Irwin believes the farm was a hobby for Neel, who traveled the Ohio River with his barges and boats. He owned coal mines at Coal Center in Washington

The whole thing is nauseating. How can we abide a society that puts a premium on sex appeal, beauty and poise for 10year-olds? How can we allow little girls to get the idea that their worth is measured by how they look strutting around in a bathing suit?

Dear B. J.: Thank you for giving me another opportunity to zero in on one of my favorite targets.

It's not only nauseating, it's pathetic that parents would exploit 10 - year - olds by putting them in a beauty contest. What these parents don't understand is that one of the principal incentives for achievenent is destroyed when such phony values are emphasized. Hedmond Looks At Schedule . . .

Niles isn't on the ELHS 1963 schedule and several of the Potters' opponents seem to be down this season but this doesn't give head coach Bob Hedmond any reason to take the schedule lightly.

The Potter mentor is anything but optimistic. He is quick to point out that while Niles, which has been pair of big league marks—15 for tory and smacked a two-run homican League. one of the top teams in Ohio for the past three sea- three consecutive games and 17 er for the Chicago White Sox, who Boston and Bill Monbouquette the Yanks 11 games ahead of the place San Francisco 11-1. The Purple Riders appear ready to rush back into the top ten again after a rebuilding campaign last year and Weirton has an all-veteran team returning. Here's how Hedmond sizes up the Potters' foes for the 1963 campaign: SEPT. 7 — BEAVER LOCAL — "They are potentially strong and because of the local interest will be out to beat us again like they did last year. We have a lot of respect for their backfield and for Ken Matheny, a big tackle who scales 220 pounds.

SEPT. 13 - MIDLAND - "Here is a strong team with the entire backfield returning and their linemen are strong and aggressive. Again, this is a good local SEPT. 21 - STEUBENVILLE CENTRAL - "Central is an improved team. I heard they tied Toledo Central in a scrimmage and only lost by two touchdowns to Massillon which is suppose to be loaded this season.

OCT. 4 - WELLSVILLE - "This is the first time the two schools have met in several years. That old rivalry and local interest will be there even though I understand they don't have much experience back

OCT. 11 - YOUNGSTOWN RAYEN - "As long as I have been here Rayen has always been a big, aggressive and fast team, so I expect the same thing again this year."

OCT. 18 - MARTINS FERRY - "They were rebuilding last year and from the reports I have received they're big, strong and fast and could field a strong team similar to what they had two years ago."

building year last season and have 14 lettermen returning. In Weirton, they are already picked to beat East Liverpool and the prediction in the newspaper points to a 6-3-1 season. They have an experienced passing combination in quarterback Tomosovich and end Ron Williams.

BERNIE ALLEN came up with his most productive day in a doubleheader since he has been in the majors by going 6-for-10 as the Twins swept a pair from the lowly Washington Senators Thursday.

Allen hit two home runs and four singles, driving in four runs in the two games. His home run in the first game helped to tie a major league mark since the Twins hit eight home runs in one game.

Smith Faces Benton In Televised Fight

LOS ANGELES (AP)-It must be conceded that middleweight boxer Johnny Smith, who gets his first big break in a national television bout Saturday, had a unique debut in the ring.

"The first fight I ever saw, I was in it," Johnny explained.

Yes, he lost it. But lean, longlegged Johnny, who calls Los Angeles home now, hopes for better luck Saturday night. He meets a seasoned craftsman.

Georgie Benton of Philadelphia, at the Olympic Auditorium. The 10-

House was driving south in Aple Alley about 15 miles an hour and Pirtchard was proceeding west in Potters Alley at 10 miles an hour, officers said. House told police that he "heard brakes screech and 'bang!' he hit me."

The collision smashed in the left door of the House auto and dented the left fender, police said. The bumped guards of Pritchard's auto were scratched.

Another mishap at 10:09 a.m. on W. 6th St. near Peach Alley damaged a 1961 four - door sedan driven by Mary J. Fox, 60, of 252 W. 7th St. and a 1949 fourdoor sedan operated by Sheila Kay Duncan, 16, of O'Fallon, Mo., police said.

The crash occurred in the oneway section of W. 6th, with the local car in the left lane and the Missouri auto in the right lane. The local woman said she was driving east when her car was bumped by the Missouri auto, which was being maneuvered into a parking spot.

There was minor damage to a chrome strip on the local auto and no damage to the Missouri auto, police said.

-Junior Editors Quiz on-BIRDS

QUESTION: How does an osprey differ from other hawks?

ANSWER: Unlike other hawks, the osprey lives entirely on fish, which it catches by a method all its own. Ospreys cannot dive under water so they must live off the fish which swim fairly close to the surface. Our pictures show the four steps in their special method of fishing.

First (upper left) an osprey flies over the water, looking down with keen eyes to detect the shape of a fish. Once a fish is spotted, the osprey closes its wings and with its feet aimed toward the target, plunges down. The third bird from the left shows the osprey hitting the water with a tremendous splash, but notice how his legs, with open claws, are grasping at the fish. The feathers of this bird are overlapping and oily, and this keeps him dry. So accurate is his aim that he usually emerges with the fish in his claws, then he flaps heavily off to his roosting place. Ospreys carry their fish head forward, one foot in front, one in back. Some say this cuts down wind resistance; others, that it keeps a firmer grip on the wriggling

FOR YOU TO DO: Certain other birds fish by plunging down into the water, only they catch the fish in their bills. Can you find out what some of them are?

* Jane Cunningham of Carrollton, Ill., wins the daily grand prize of a 20-volume set of World Book Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review and you too may win a set.
